How Do I Apply for Housing?
At SF State, on-campus housing is not required and not guaranteed. Applying for a space on campus is a separate process from applying for admission or housing. Housing applications are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Housing applicants are notified of acceptance on applications dates and dates pertaining to license agreements as outlined in the “Important Dates” section below. Apply before January to increase your chances of obtaining a housing space next fall.

1. Apply to San Francisco State University and obtain your University ID.
2. Apply for housing online using your University ID.

Important Dates
October 5: March 1: Apply for housing using the online portal
March 1: Return to the portal to complete licensing process and make initial housing payment
June: Those spaces that remain

End of August: Move-in day
